Such arrangements shall be carried out in such a way that is consistent with the obligations placed on the Operator by the appropriate authorities. The prevailing Registration Fee for each category of Member shall be determined by the Operator and notified to the Member from time to time in writing. The Operator shall be entitled to change the Registration Fees payable by Members (and the methodology used to calculate them) at any time by giving notice to the Member. Changes shall apply to Members for the Scheme Year that begins after the change has been made.

Where the Operator changes the Registration Fee for a Scheme Year after the date on which the Member has paid the Registration Fee for that Scheme Year then: (i) if the Registration Fee has been increased, the Member shall pay the Operator the difference between the amount that the Member has paid for registration and the amount of the revised Registration Fee; and (ii) if the Registration Fee has been reduced, the Operator shall repay the Member the difference between the amount it has received from the Member for its registration and the amount of the revised Registration Fee, in each case within 30 days after the date that the change is notified to the Member. If the Member or the Operator terminate this Agreement for convenience at the end of a Scheme Year in accordance with clauses 12.3 or 12.5 and the Member has already paid the Registration Fee for the subsequent year at the point of termination, then the Operator shall refund that Registration Fee to the Member;

The Operator shall determine the Material Levy Fee in accordance with such methodology as it may specify from time to time and shall invoice its Members in advance for the four quarterly periods of each Scheme Year. The Operator reserves the right to undertake a reconciliation at the end of the Scheme Year of payments received against the actual costs of complying with and acquiring the necessary evidence for the Scheme's compliance with the Obligations on behalf of the Member together with the Operator's margin and to adjust the Material Levy Fee accordingly and invoice the Member for any shortfall as determined by the Operator (and the Member shall pay such invoice).

For the avoidance of doubt, the Operator may change the Fees and the methods by which they are calculated at any time on written notice to the Member.

8.6 If sums payable by the Member to the Operator are late and a debt recovery service is instructed by the Operator, the Member shall be liable for the additional fees incurred. The Operator shall make reasonable attempts to resolve outstanding payments directly and shall only consider debt recovery if the Member is unresponsive.
